

24-25 April 2023, Brussels

Brussels from the Inside. NextGens: Tomorrow's Leaders

European Family Businesses kindly invites its young members to take part in this informative activity that aims to show them, firsthand, the work of the main European institutions at a moment when issues like the new EU Green Deal are starting to become increasingly relevant for their businesses. They will also have the opportunity to exchange views on the role of family businesses in the economy and communities not only with decision-makers, but also with other NextGens from different European chapters; in a place where the voice of the young business community is often neglected, they will be able to share ideas on how to implement new policies and initiatives with young politicians who share many of their values on climate change and social entrepreneurship.
